

New version of SMART now available

A new version of SMART has just been released.

When logging in to SMART for the first time, you will need to activate your client account. Activation allows you to enter your own new User Name and Password to access the full functionality of SMART. View our animated activation demonstration for further help with activating your account.

As part of the release of this new version of SMART, the RSM website and SMART have also both undergone a facelift and are now better integrated.

If you have any questions or feedback, please email us at info@rsm.govt.nz or call us on 0508 RSM INFO (776 463).
