Mutual recognition of a compliance mark in New Zealand and Australia

A significant joint initiative is the mutual recognition arrangement (MRA) with Australia for Electromagnetic Compatibility (EMC) Compliance of electrical and electronic products under the umbrella provisions of the Trans-Tasman Mutual Recognition Arrangement (TTMRA).

A RCM labelled product meeting Australian EMC requirements automatically meets the EMC requirements for supply, distribution and sale in New Zealand. Reciprocal provisions apply to products supplied from New Zealand.

The MRA also applies to a wide range of radio products.
